Section B: Non-prescribed Texts

Read the following passage carefully and answer Question No. 10 to 11.

Have you ever failed at something so miserably that the thought of attempting to do it again was the last thing in your mind?

If your answer is yes, you should understand that you are not a robot. Unlike robots, we human beings have feelings, emotions and dreams. We are all meant to grow despite our circumstances and limitations. Flourishing and trying to make our dreams come true feels great when life goes our way. But what happens when it does not? What happens when you fail despite all your hard work? Do you stay down and accept defeat or do you get up again? If you have the tendency to persevere and keep going, then you have what experts call grit”.

Falling down or failing is one of the most agonizing, embarrassing and scary human experiences. But is also one of the most educational, empowering and essential parts of living a successful and fulfilling life. Did you know that perseverance (grit) is one of the seven qualities that has been described as the key to personal success and betterment in society? The other six are: curiosity, gratitude, optimism, self-control, social intelligence and zest. Thomas Edison is an example of grit for trying more than 1000 times to invent the light bulb. When asked why he kept going despite hundreds of failures, he merely stated that they had not been failures, they were hundreds of attempts towards creating light bulb.

10. Complete the following sentences (any THREE). (3X1= 3 marks)

Section B: Non-prescribed Texts

Read the given passage carefully and answer the questions that follow:

Naval architects never claim that a ship is unsinkable, but the sinking of the passenger-and-car ferry Estonia in the Baltic surely should never have happened. It was well designed and carefully maintained. It carried the proper number of lifeboats. It had been thoroughly inspected on the day of its fatal voyage. Yet hours later, the Estonia rolled over and sank in a cold, stormy night. It went down so quickly that most of those on board, caught in their dark, flooding cabins, had no chance to save themselves: Of those who managed to scramble overboard, only 139 survived. The rest died of hypothermia before the rescuers could pluck them from the cold sea. The final death toll amounted to 912 souls. However, there were an unpleasant number of questions about why the Estonia sank and why so many survivors were men in their prime, while most of the dead were women, children, and the elderly.

31. Why was the sinking of Estonia surprising? (2 Marks)

32. (2 Marks)

i. What's so unpleasant about the last fact mentioned in the passage?

OR

ii. What does the survivors' list suggest?

Read the given passage carefully and answer the questions that follow:

Dolphins are regarded as the friendliest creatures in the sea and stories of them helping drowning sailors have been common since Roman times. The more we learn about dolphins, the more we realise that their society is more complex than people previously imagined. They look after other dolphins when they are ill, care for pregnant mothers and protect the weakest in the community, as we do. Some scientists have suggested that dolphins have a language but it is much more probable that they communicate with each other without needing words. Could any of these mammals be more intelligent than man? Certainly, the most common argument in favour of man's superiority over them that we can kill them more easily than they can kill us is the least satisfactory. On the contrary, the more we discover about these remarkable creatures, the less we appear superior when we destroy them.

33. (2 Marks)

i. Mention two things that are similar to humans in the dolphin community.

OR

ii. According to the scientists, what is the medium of communication among the dolphins?

34. What do you feel about the most common argument in favour of man's superiority over dolphins? (2 Marks)

35. Find a word similar in meaning to any Two: (2 Marks)

- i) safeguard
- ii) dominance
- iii) extraordinary

36. Read the following passage carefully and make a summary. (1X3= 3 Marks)

i. Most of the people who appear most often in history books are great conquerors and generals. Strangely enough the people who really helped civilization forward are often never mentioned at all. We do not know who made the first boat or calculated the length of the year, but we know all about our killers and destroyers. We raise statues of them simply because they fought bravely. But even animals fight, so do savages. To fight is not to be civilised. Moreover, there are other ways of settling quarrels among men or nations. So really civilised people have been those who brought peace and happiness to mankind. They have been prophets, saints, doctors, inventors, and discoverers. They have been truly great since instead of inflicting pain and hardships upon humanity they have healed their wounds. Instead of killing, they are really civilised and deserve our attention and respect.

OR

ii. This century is the age of science. We cannot imagine our lives sans Science. Science has become a part and parcel of our lives. Science has become a symbol of progress. The progress is in the field of medicine, education, industry, etc., and we enjoy the comforts of science in all fields. Science has developed an effective transport and communication system. Buses, cars, trains, planes have made transportation easy and comfortable, safe, and fast. Man has even landed on the moon with the help of technology. In the field of medicine, science has worked wonders. Almost all kinds of diseases are entirely cured by modern drugs and medicines. Medicine has reduced pain and suffering. Electricity is another important scientific invention. The comforts of our life like electric lamps, refrigerators, fans, grinders, washing machines, etc. are all run by electricity. Scientific methods of cultivation have solved the flood problem. The pests destroying the crops are killed immediately by pesticides. Poultry and sericulture are also improved. Thus, science is helpful in all walks of life and makes our life comfortable and happy.
